6. Course evaluation system

General course evaluation system	100 points - 50 points during the semester and 50 points for the exam "Excellent" - the student demonstrates complete and in-depth knowledge of the material, a reliable level of development of skills, correct and reasonable formulation of practical conclusions, provides a complete reasonable solution of examples and problems, analyzes causal relationships; fluent in scientific terms; "Good" - the student demonstrates complete knowledge of the material, but allows minor omissions of factual material, is able to apply it to solve specific examples and problems, in some cases vaguely formulates generally correct answers, makes some minor mistakes and inaccuracies in solutions; "Satisfactory" - the student has most of the factual material, but does not teach it consistently and logically, allows significant gaps in the answer, does not always know how to properly apply the acquired knowledge to solve specific examples and problems, vaguely and sometimes incorrectly

	formulates basic allegations and causation; "Unsatisfactory" - the student does not have a sufficient level of necessary knowledge, skills, abilities, scientific terms.
Requirements for individual work	The individual task is performed by the student in the form of presentation work (PR) from this course and is the final task, which is aimed at improving the skills of independent work with the consolidation of the knowledge that was acquired during its teaching. The purpose of the work is to promote the consolidation of students' knowledge in the process of research, analysis and generalization of the results of studying the main topics of this discipline. The essence of the presentation work is to prepare a description of one of the countries of the world economy (according to the student's choice) according to the provided list of literature and lecture material according to the specified criteria. Students receive assignments for PR at the beginning of the semester, in which they study the subject "International Economic Relations". The presentation consists of 20-25 slides, which may contain text, tables, charts, figures, sound, hyperlinks to other slides and documents that reflect the essence of a particular topic. The individual assignment must be submitted for review 2 weeks before the end of the semester and defended and evaluated at 10 points (max)
Seminars	The practical lesson is held in order to form students' skills in the subject, solve problems, check and evaluate them. The purpose and structure of practical classes is a chain that connects theoretical training and teaching practice in the discipline, as well as provides prior control students' knowledge. The grade for the practical lesson is taken into account when setting the final grade for the discipline. This form gives the student the opportunity to receive a maximum of 30 points during the semester
Independent work	Independent work of students is the main means of mastering educational material in free time from classroom classes. The study time allotted for independent work of students is regulated by the working curriculum and is respectively 120 hours. Independent work involves the study of educational, scientific and reference literature. The recommended element of this student work is record keeping (electronic version or presentation is also allowed). This approach promotes better assimilation of the actual material, makes it possible to save it in a user-friendly form. The level of student performance of independent work is taken into account when setting the final grade for the content modules of the discipline and is estimated at 10 points (max)
Conditions of admission to the final control	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – evaluation for answers and testing during classroom classes (30 points); – assessment for individual (presentation) work (10 points); – score for independent work (10 points).

7. Course policy

- independent performance of educational tasks, tasks of current and final control of learning outcomes (for persons with special educational needs this requirement is applied taking into account their individual needs and opportunities);

- links to sources of information in the case of the use of ideas, developments, statements, information;

- providing reliable information about the results of their own educational (scientific, creative) activities, used research methods and sources of information.

Assimilation of the missed topic of the lecture for a good reason is checked during the final control. The omission of the lecture for a disrespectful reason is completed by the student in accordance with the requirements of the department, established at the meeting of the department (interview, abstract, etc.).

Missed practical classes, regardless of the reason for the omission, the student works according to the schedule of consultations. Current "2" academic groups.
